Course Description

This course is a guided practicum experience for students enrolled in the higher education program. The field experience requires supervised field work at a higher education institution or agency and participation in a regularly scheduled internship seminar. Fieldwork is overseen by program faculty and supervised by a professional administrator at the internship site. The seminar covers professional skills development and related fieldwork issues to theory and research in higher education. A strong emphasis will be placed on class participation and sharing internship experiences with fellow classmates.

Course Objectives

Students will:

- Develop a thorough understanding of a functional area of higher education administration.
- Explore the relationship of administrative practice to the theory and research literature of higher education.
- Strengthen professional skills.
- Develop an understanding of current issues and challenges in administrative practice.
- Become a reflective practitioner.

Expectations

Attendance and participation

Each student is expected to come to class prepared, having read the readings, completed class assignments, and ready to share his or her experiences, perspectives, questions, and insights. Students are expected to discuss and debate issues and participate in class exercises.

APA style

All formal work should utilize APA style as described in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th edition.

Ethical practices

Abide by the university's academic honesty policy when completing any and all class assignments.

You may access the policy at:

<http://www.bc.edu/offices/stserv/academic/resources/policy.html#integrity>

Timeliness of work

Students are expected to complete all required readings and assignments as scheduled. Late assignments will most likely result in the lowering of a student's grade.

Accommodations

Boston College students who need special resources to accommodate specific learning challenges should visit the Connors Family Learning Center www.bc.edu/connors or, for other special needs, one of the other offices at the university - for a list and email links (see <http://www.bc.edu/offices/odsd/disabilityservices/resources.html>). If you have a disability and will be requesting accommodations for this course, please register with either Kathy Duggan (Kathleen.duggan@bc.edu) Associate Director, Academic Support Services, the Connors Family Learning Center (learning disabilities and ADHD) or Paulette Durrett (paulette.durrett@bc.edu), Assistant Dean for Students with Disabilities (all other disabilities). Advance notice and appropriate documentation are required for accommodations.

Religious holidays

Students will not be penalized because of observances of their religious beliefs. Whenever possible, students will be given reasonable time to make up any academic assignment that is missed due to participation in a religious observance. It is the student's responsibility to inform the instructor as soon as possible of any of the intended absences for religious observances.

Instructor responsibilities

Students should expect that the instructors for this course will:

- Be prepared for class, read and return students' work in a timely manner, and be interested and engaged in students' work;
- Remember that each student brings a different background, experience, and perspective to the course;
- Learn from the students;
- Help students identify additional resources as needed;
- Meet with students individually or in groups upon request and be available in person, by telephone, and by e-mail; and
- Work hard, and empower students to produce high-quality work.

Course Evaluation and Assignments

Class Participation (Including Functional Area Presentation)	10%
Development of Learning Goals	10%
Case Study Presentation	30%
Journal Entries (4)	20% (5% each)
Final Reflection	30%
Supervisor Evaluation	0% (While your supervisor evaluation is not a part of your point total for the class, students must submit this evaluation in order to receive a grade in the class. It is expected that students will meet the expectations of their placement supervisor.)

Class Participation and Functional Area Introduction (10%)

You are expected to participate in class discussions and group work in a manner that demonstrates thoughtful reflection and understanding of the subject matter as well as respect for your colleagues in the class. In order to participate meaningfully, you must come to class having completed all of the readings and assignments. Failure to do so will not only jeopardize your grade, but will impair your classmates' ability to work with you during discussion/group work activities.

Class participation also includes participating in an individual meeting during the course of the semester to talk about your individual experience. Each student needs to schedule ONE 30-minute appointment with your assigned instructor by October 10th.

Students will also present a three-slide introduction to their field experience placement site. This presentation should provide a brief overview of your role at the placement site, the office staff, and the department's mission, goals, and the type of work in which it engages.

Development of Learning Goals (10%)

Due Date: Draft Group A - September 12; Draft Group B - September 19; Final - September 26

Write a 2-3 page document outlining your learning goals for your field experience placement for the semester and how you plan to achieve them. It is strongly recommended that you develop these learning goals in collaboration with your supervisor. A grading rubric and sample assignments are available on BlackBoard,

Case Study Presentation (30%)

Due Date: Varies

Students will be divided into teams of approximately three and will be responsible for writing a case study around a hot topic or issue confronting students and/or institutions of higher education. Each case study should be approximately 2 (single-spaced) pages in length and incorporate aspects of the functional areas in which all of your group members work. Additionally, the group should identify an article from a reputable source (ex. Inside Higher Ed, The Chronicle of Higher Education, a scholarly higher education journal article) that provides details about the issue being presented in the case study.

Students should email a link to the article and a copy of the case study to their classmates at least 48 hours before they present. During class time, the group will introduce the case study, facilitate a discussion with their classmates, and present their own solutions. Presentations should last approximately 30 minutes.

The purpose of this assignment is to identify and learn about a hot topic or issue, explore how this issue plays out in practice within different functional areas, and provide an opportunity to apply theory to practice through peer learning.

Journal Entries (20%)

Due Date: Varies

Write a 1-2 page journal entry about your placement experience. These journals are meant to be useful for you and as a means for your instructors to provide you with feedback and suggestions. They will also be used during our small group discussions if you wish to share them with the group. Examples of topics you may wish to journal about include:

1. A difficult work experience you want to reflect on, explore, or understand better.
2. A new idea, theory or concept you want to explore further or apply to your practice.
3. The group dynamics in your office and/or your relationship with your supervisor.
4. A professional development experience you attended or are planning to attend.

Optional: Blogs can be a great way to establish a professional presence online and make connections with others. If you would like to develop a professional blog, you can write blog entries for your journal assignments in lieu of handing in paper copies. If you choose this option, you should email your instructor the link to your blog entry before class. Remember that blog entries are public documents, therefore you should be “diplomatic” in sharing your experiences and not share anything you would not want to be read by your supervisor, your colleagues, or your mother.

Final Reflection (30%)

Due Date: December 12

Write a 5-7 page paper about your field experience to date. The purpose of this assignment is for you to reflect and synthesize your experiences in your placement.

Topics that you may want to address include (be specific):

1. How has your perspective about the field of higher education as a profession been affected by this experience? How has your placement connected with your coursework?
2. In what ways could your placement better connect with your coursework?
3. Assess your skills for and interest in working in this functional area. If you don't think you wish to continue in this area, include commentary on how your knowledge of this area will enhance your particular interests.
4. Evaluate your performance. How well did you reach your goals? How active were you in creating a good learning experience for yourself? How well were you able to adapt to a new administrative setting, meet people, learn about the culture and goals of the office, and learn through your interactions? What do you think your supervisor will say about your performance in the internship?
5. What are your goals for next semester in this position?
6. What would you have done differently if you could start this internship over? What should the Internship Coordinator and/or other students know about this site so that future experiences can be as successful as possible? Would you recommend it to future interns? What were its strong points and what, if anything, would you suggest changing?
7. Should you wish to include a summary of your what you did over the semester, please make sure it is BRIEF and no longer than a page. Effective final reflection papers interweave the summary throughout the paper.

Supervisor Evaluation (0%)

At the end of the semester, supervisors will complete an evaluation of student performance and contributions at the internship site for the semester. All supervisor evaluations must be returned by December 12.
